*Note: A municipality can contain preserved farm acreage but show a zero in the “Num of Farms” column due to the fact that a farm can be spread across more than one municipality. Yet, the preserved farm, as a whole, must be attributed to only one of them. The farm is normally attributed to the municipality that has the majority of the farm’s acreage.

**Note: Sussex County may partner with another county to preserve a farm that has parcels lying in both. However, the majority of the farm’s acreage must be in Sussex County.
